April 24 – 29, 2012

Ireland has a history of being a land that held the world in times of change. During the Medieval Dark Ages, this Celtic island kept a torch for Spirituality alive. As the tides of 2012 bring a flux of global change, we invite you to take your place in Dunderry Park for a unique international shamanic event for the world.

Come gather with us in the heart of Brú Na Boinne (the famous constellation of sacred sites in County Meath) to inspire your most powerful medicine. Hear the call to be a shaman and co-creator of The 2012 Mála For The Earth, a prayer bundle for the time to come. From all over the world, medicine men and women are coming to dream and manifest a wild and loving prayer parcel that will be held in the earth of Ireland for years beyond our current lifetimes.

Journeying together in The Otherworld/The Dreamtime, our shamanic collective will seek and harvest vision of the new archetypes of humanity. Through Celtic ritual and ceremony belonging to the ancient myth of the first prayer bundle ("The Crane Bag"), a great mála will be jointly constructed to powerfully manifest our vision for highest evolution.

The 2012 Mála For The Earth will vibrate with the purest energy of creation from the centre of Brú Na Boinne and we invite you to take your place in this tuatha naofa ("sacred tribe") - a warm community of international shamanic practitioners who carry the requisite experience and tools to immerse themselves in this sacred, unique 2012 adventure.

This our land of An Sí, the Shining Ones, the luminous realms of the Faerie, it is in their arms that we dream new life.

Sacred Site Fieldwork will bring us to the Hill Of Tara, Cairns Of The Cailleach (Grandmother Earth), Fourknocks and the River Boyne. Ancient Irish mythology and music will be resources for stepping beyond "ordinary time". Our cauldron will powerfully hold rituals of Earth, Water, Air and Fire. Experience deeper states of being and new frontiers for your practice.

Gathering - €470

(6 Days Full Board Available, €425)

A 3 DAY ROAD TRIP

THE 3 DAY ROAD TRIP TO THE WEST:

We will drive to the western Connemara coast to take the ferry to the islands of Aran. Crossing the water, we will experience life on an island where the Irish language is still the first on the tongues of natives living there. On the largest island, Inis Mór we will visit the unique sites of Dun Aonghasa and An Grianán for ceremony and ritual. Steeped in history and tradition, visiting Inis Mór is a cherished taste of ancient and contemporary western Irish life. Our evenings there will give us a chance to kick back in small pubs where music and fires burn through the evening. Visit www.aranislans.ie to learn more. On the road back to the east, we have the opportunity to visit sacred sites centrally located on the mainland.
